Starting Winter Quarter

Hi! Let's learn to love God through His Word and through prayer! At this point in time, I probably know as little as you do about what small group this year will be like :)

Starting Winter Quarter

Hi there! I'm Fumika and currently a 4th year Mechanical Engineering major. I like trying new things, whether its a new recipe or hobby or going to new places. :) Recently, I've been into rock climbing and dance (though I'm bad at both haha). But, hit me up if you want to...anything honestly. We can go explore the city or play basketball or whatever! But yea, that's enough about me! Thanks for checking out small groups! Throughout the year, I find it personally challenging to remember who and what we live for. When we have tests, family, friends, and careers to worry about, it's pretty easy to take our eyes off of Jesus Christ. We'll all face trials, but I hope that in small group, we can bear one another's burdens and share in each other's happy moments, all while reminding each other of just who God is and how great is the One we serve. Thanks again. :) Feel free to hit me up whenever!

Starting in November

Hi there! Super excited that you're checking out small groups! Feel free to reach out if you have any questions or just want to say hi :)

Some things about me: from the Bay Area; study Linguistics and Computer Science; enjoy running, swimming, hiking, reading, traveling, and trying new things!

Tentative small group focus: treasure Christ before all else; grow upwards (in our relationship with God), inwards (in our relationships with one another), and outwards (in our evangelism)

Kelly Fung (Kelly Chu) (Working)
kellyachu12@gmail.com

Hi there! I graduated from UCLA in 2015 and I'm a graphic designer at Lucky Brand HQ. This year, my small group will be composed of ladies-only small group meetings, joint gatherings with my husband's small group, and one-on-one hangouts. My hope is that we would grow in our love for God and be better worshippers of our Lord. If you're interested, please don't hesitate to contact me!

Millie Chang (4th-year)
millie.chang@sbcglobal.net

Hello! My name is Millie and I am a 4th year materials science & engineering major from the Bay Area. Some of my favorite things are: the San Francisco Giants, Lord of the Rings, Disneyland, country music, and Covel (yes, the dining hall). This year in small group, we will pray together, study the Bible together, and serve together... amongst many other things! What we'll be going over specifically is not yet set in stone, but there will most likely be some focus on evangelism and missions. My hope for small group is that we may ultimately grow in love and in knowledge of our awesome God and His Word. Looking forward to meeting you all :)

Paulina Lin (3rd-year)
plin159@ucla.edu

Hello!! My name is Paulina and I am currently a third year majoring in MCDB and minoring in German! A little bit about me hm.. I enjoy bright colors, classical music, patterned socks, and ice cream. I also play club volleyball for UCLA! This year in small group my hope is that we would grow in our love for and desire to read the Word, really know and be able to share the Gospel with others, and ultimately strive to live our lives in the pursuit of glorifying God in all that we do! I would like small group to be a place where we can keep each other accountable in our walks, be in prayer for one another, and continually point each other back to Christ. Feel free to email me or talk to me in person! I would love to meet you and get to know you better! ^__^

Peipei Lyu (4th-year)
peipeilyu@ucla.edu

My name is Peipei (pronounced pay pay) and I am a 4th year bioengineering major. My hobbies include napping, singing in the shower, watching movies, and eating Chelsey's desserts. The goal for small group is that we learn to encourage each other as we run the race with our eyes fixed on Jesus. If for some reason you are interested in being stuck with me, shoot me an email and let's chat. If you just want to get to know me, I'd love to talk to you as well.
